ALONG "LA BÂTIE" TOUR

Les noms des hameaux - Tourné et Tréguignes - d'origine latine, et les vestiges d'une voie romaine attestent de l'histoire ancienne du village.

Le bourg prend son essor au XVIII^e siècle grâce à la production de toiles de chambre dites « de Valiron ». Elle est progressivement remplacée par le tissage de la soie au XIX^e siècle suite à la révolte des Canuts lyonnais en 1831 et 1834. Au XX^e siècle, la mécanisation supprime les métiers à tisser à bras. C'est le début d'une « Belle époque » pour la commune. À un tel point que la Bâtie-Montgascon sera surnommée : « Croix-Rouge du Bas-Dauphiné ».
